McCann Announces Re-Election Campaign for Howard County Prosecutor Firm. Fair. Proven.

Kokomo, IN – December 22, 2025 – Mark A. McCann today announced his candidacy for re-election as Prosecuting Attorney for Howard County, reaffirming his commitment to a justice system that is firm, fair, and proven to protect public safety while upholding the rule of law.

As Howard County's Chief Law Enforcement Officer, McCann has focused his administration on prosecuting violent crime, protecting children, and supporting law enforcement—while ensuring that every case is handled with fairness, dignity, and respect. His record reflects a balanced approach to justice that combines accountability with integrity.

“Justice is not about politics—it’s about doing what’s right,” McCann said. “Being firm but fair means holding offenders accountable, standing up for victims, and supporting our officers, while never compromising integrity. That approach has been proven to work for Howard County.”

McCann brings more than 30 years of law enforcement and prosecutorial experience, having served as Deputy Prosecutor, Chief Deputy Prosecutor, and now elected Prosecutor. He has led the office through complex and high-profile cases, strengthened collaboration with law enforcement agencies, and guided the county through critical moments with steady leadership.

Under McCann's leadership, the Prosecutor's Office will continue to expand victim services, prioritize child protection cases, and emphasize result-driven prosecution focused on public safety and community trust.

“I am proud of what we have accomplished together, but the work is not finished,” McCann said. “I remain committed to delivering justice that is firm, fair, and proven—for every resident of Howard County.”
